PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: GIBILLERO Design

MOKO seat is composed of a series of steel or wooden profiles of the same length but different thicknesses (20 mm, 40 mm, 80 mm) to accommodate the curved and flat parts of the bench, so fixing it to perfection at every point to make it absolutely comfortable. The two side legs made of steel, placed on the end of the bench, close its shape, bring the profiles and serve as a ground anchor. A simple but very effective composition for a product with a modern design that can be used in both public places and private spaces.
